Table 1 Use Case Specification / Scenarios

Reserve Room	● Guest must enter the date of arrival and number of nights to view available rooms. ● System makes request to the database to search all available rooms. ● The list of available rooms is displayed to the guest. ● Guest choose a particular room to book. ● System calculates the total amount. ● The payment form is displayed to the guest. ● The Guest must fill in payment details. ● Database store the details of the reservation. ● Database return reservation number to the system. ● System display reservation number to the guest.
CheckIn/CheckOut:	● Hotel employee enters the reservation number. ● System makes request to the database to search this exact reservation. ● Database return the reservation details to the system. ● System display reservation to the hotel employee. ● Hotel employee choose whether to check-in or to check-out the guest. ● System changes the room status. ● Room status stored in database.
Login:	● Administrator must login to the system using his username and password. ● Authentication request sent to the database to confirm administrator`s details. ● Authentication verified. ● Work space displayed to the administrator.
Cancel Booking:	● Guest must enter the reservation number. ● System makes request to the database to search this exact reservation. ● Database return the reservation details to the system. ● System display reservation to the guest. ● Guest must confirm the cancellation. ● Database delete the reservation. ● Database send the refund to the system. ● System displays refund information to the guest.